

People are so tired of being inundated by advertising. That's why we have the no-call list now so we can enjoy our homelife more without it being interrupted everyday. That's why we buy Tivo so we can fast forward through commercials and that's why we have satellite radio so we can listen to music without having advertising thrust upon us. And we are definitely willing to pay extra money for all this! We are tired of it.